

My Weather Router Disclaimer and Payment Terms

This disclaimer covers 3 areas.

- 1) Weather Routing
- 2) Medical Advice
- 3) Payment for Service

1) My Weather Router is designed to offer the best advice where possible in helping vessels and crew make the most informed decisions before and during passage.

My Weather Router can only forecast the weather, we do not make or create the weather and cannot be held responsible when forecasts do not match with the realisms of the ocean.

My Weather Router cannot be held responsible for damage to materials, equipment or individuals onboard the vessel due to a forecast and advice given that does not match the conditions experienced.

My Weather Router is here as an aid and a guide to help advise to the very best of our ability. The final decision and responsibility for the vessel regarding weather related decisions will be made by the skipper or appointed representative for the vessel.

2) My Weather Router can offer medical advice to all or any members of the crew or guest list before or during passage. However, as mentioned on the website the response time can be up to 12 hours before an email can be replied to.

There is a charge for each separate case that is accepted and treated by the doctor.

The doctor can choose to refuse to answer an email if it is felt that the response would be given without enough patient history or medical information, or the doctor is not in a position to respond.

The concept of the medical advice is where it is possible to act as if there is a doctor onboard who can offer advice and treatment, depending on the availability of the medical stores at the time.

The doctor cannot be held responsible for complications that exist from not disclosing correct medical information at the time that a case is accepted.

Any medical information or history sent to the doctor will be treated confidential.

3) Payment is to be made upon arrival at the final port. Payment is expected within 14 days of arrival. Invoices can be settled by a bank transfer to either Euro or Pounds account, or by PayPal, whichever is the more convenient. Information is passed on the invoice.

This disclaimer is to be kept for your records and My Weather Router needs only a written confirmation that it has been read, understood, accepted and filed by the body or individual responsible for the vessel.
